Dear Inez,

I've just returned from a problematic trip to California.

During <sup>1</sup>check-in / boarding, I asked for an aisle seat. Unfortunately, the same seat number was on someone else's <sup>2</sup>boarding pass / carry-on bag. So I had to sit in a window seat. In California, we decided to <sup>3</sup>rent / fill out a car. We were driving to our hotel when we got a <sup>4</sup>spare tire / flat tire. We opened the <sup>5</sup>trunk / tank but there wasn't a <sup>6</sup>jack / jumper cables. So we had to wait six hours for a tow truck.

Finally, we arrived at the hotel. The room was nice and there were some <sup>7</sup>toiletries / hosts on the bathroom shelf. Usually, these are free and you just <sup>8</sup>make yourself / help yourself. However, when we checked out of the hotel, they wanted us to pay for them.

I'm glad to be home.

Best regards,

Janice
